Flash Floods, Blizzards And Tornado Strike

North Central And Rocky Mountain States Have Unusual Storms

AT LEAST 15 PERSONS DEAD

(By International News Service)

Fifteen persons were known dead today following flash floods, tornadoes and blizzards which heralded the first day of summer in the north central and Rocky mountain states.

The death toll of a flash flood which struck at dawn yesterday at Cambridge in south central Nebraska was 12 persons.

It was feared this total may rise as at least 50 more persons were reported missing.

Most of the dead were sleeping in a trailer-truck camp at the outskirts of the town when they were engulfed by rain-swollen waters of Medicine Creek.

Nine persons were injured when tornadoes ripped through the towns of Loomis and Gothenburg in south central Nebraska, north and east of flooded Cambridge.

At Yellowstone National Park on the Wyoming-Montana border three park employees were asphyxiated in their truck while they were fighting their way through deep drifts of a sudden blizzard which buried the area.

The blizzard struck suddenly Friday night and was lashed by wind reaching a velocity of 60 miles an hour during its 24-hour duration.

Snow blocked the highways from Montana leading to the northeast entrance of the park in Wyoming.

The blizzard imperiled 39 persons in stalled cars in the park area Friday night. All were brought to safety by rescue workers on skis and snowshoes.

Sleeping In Trailer Camp

Seventeen tourists trapped by snow atop 11,000-foot Cooke Pass were brought to Red Lodge, Mont., after spending Friday night and Saturday crowded in a trailer home.

Burlington railroad officials in Denver reported that all company communications east of McCook, Neb., between that city and Lincoln, Neb., had been destroyed by the flash flood.

All Burlington trains out of Denver were being routed over lines of the Rock Island company.

Meanwhile, the threat increased that rain-soaked levees along the central Mississippi river and further south might not continue to hold under the impact of flood-swollen streams.

Pa Newc Observes

A West Side resident is desirous to know how many years ago the P. & L. E. railroad ran up the old path on the West Side.

This morning's fine weather inspired one North Hill housewife to set early about her Monday wash. By 8 o'clock she already had a tremendous line of laundry hung out to the breeze.

Bewildered patrons on the Butler avenue bus line are still wondering where to catch the bus in that section of the city. Some patrons argue that the bus stops on one side of an intersection, while others wait on the opposite side. A few bus stop signs painted on utility poles would aid the situation considerably.

Mrs. F. O. Miles, R. D. 2, Volant, discovered a perfectly formed skin of a garter snake two feet, two inches long, outside the door of her home on Sunday afternoon. The skin was still in the small creature had just completed the shedding of its epidermis. The specimen was brought into The News by Miss Melville Miles.

Snowplows Clear Roads After Western Blizzard

RED LODGE, Mont., June 23.—(INS)—Snowplows today were clearing the roads to the 11,000-foot Cooke Pass near Yellowstone Park where an unseasonable week-end blizzard killed three persons and stranded 39 tourists.

The dead were three National Park employees, Vernon Kaiser, Richard Hucker and John Baker, who were asphyxiated in their truck which had been stalled and covered with four feet of snow on the eastern side of the pass near Yellowstone.

They were believed to have died of carbon monoxide poisoning. The truck's gasoline tank was empty and the ignition switch was on.

The last 17 of the stranded tourists, trapped by the blizzard, were brought to Red Lodge. Twenty-two others reached safely last Saturday.

Food Is Provided

Rescuers on skis and snowshoes brought food to the stranded tourists before snowplows could cut a path to the crowded trailer camp where they sought shelter.

Sheriff Robert Cunningham said little snow fell on the pass itself. (Continued on Page Two)

Marshall Says U. S. Must Arm Other Nations

WASHINGTON, June 23.—(INS)—Secretary of State Marshall warned congress today that unless the United States arms the other nations of the western hemisphere against the possibility of another war, other countries will.

Marshall declared: "We may be sure that if we are not willing to assist our Latin American friends, as well as Canada... In the procurement of arms and in obtaining instruction and training for their military personnel, they will of necessity seek this help elsewhere."

Marshall testified before the house foreign affairs committee as the administration urged congress to implement President Truman's plea for "military cooperation of the American States" through the enactment of suitable legislation.

Marshall Charges Propaganda Is Directed At U. S.

Secretary Says Campaign Seeks To Make World Believe U. S. By-Passing U. N.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—(INS)—Secretary of State Marshall charged today that a "propaganda campaign" is under way to make the world believe that the United States is by-passing the United Nations.

Marshall's accusation was general and directed against no nation or persons in particular. It came during testimony before the house foreign affairs committee on a bill before the house foreign affairs committee on a bill to foster greater cooperation with other American states, including the standardization of armaments. Rep. Smith (R., Wis.), brought out that the proposal to rearm the western hemisphere more modern methods of warfare has not been brought before the United Nations. Marshall said he did not think there was any need for that.

Smith commented: "There's been a feeling that we've been by-passing the United Nations."

Marshall replied: "I'm inclined to think that that's more of a propaganda campaign than a sincere feeling."

Community Rose Garden Is Formally Dedicated

As the rays of the setting sun Sunday evening set aglow the hundreds of blooms in the Community Rose Garden, near the Jameson Memorial hospital, the garden was formally dedicated at a fitting and impressive ceremony in honor of the men and women from Lawrence county who devoted a portion of their lives in service with the armed forces during World War II.

The dedication ceremony marked the culmination of five years of planning, planting, care, contributions, cooperation and supervision by the Lawrence County Garden club, the city of New Castle and donors. Several hundred gathered on the site for the dedicatory service.

As a result of the enterprise the community, in honor of those who served our country, has in the rose garden a beauty spot laid out in the city park opposite the entrance to Jameson Memorial hospital. As an addition to the city, it is one to which residents may point with pride.

Baby Born In Plane 6,000 Feet Above Earth

PORTSMOUTH, Va., June 23.—(INS)—The Navy disclosed today the dramatic story of the birth of Judy Marie Summers, which occurred in an airplane flying at an altitude of 6,000 feet—first such incident in naval history.

Judy's mother, Mrs. James F. Summers, wife of a chief aviation machinist's mate, was being flown from Chincoteague, Va., to the Portsmouth Naval hospital yesterday when the plane lost its race with the storm. She is a native of Alliquippa, Pa.

The Navy transport craft took off at Chincoteague just before day-break and 15 minutes later it became evident that the storm was certain to outdistance the speedy plane.

A Navy doctor, Lt. Ralph J. Onofrio, who was accompanying Mrs. Summers, secured for action and minutes later Judy arrived, none the worse for her mid-air birth.

Onofrio was assisted by a Navy nurse and by members of the plane's crew.

Plan Study Of Extent U. S. Can Give Europe Aid

By WILLIAM E. ZIMMERMAN (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, June 23.—The United States today launched a sweeping study of how far the nation can go in extending economic help to foreign countries as Russia agreed to joint Anglo-French discussion on Secretary of State Marshall's aid-to-Europe plan.

President Truman, taking the suggestion of senate foreign relations chairman Vandenberg (R., Mich.), laid the groundwork for the survey by appointing three committees to "determine the facts."

The president's action preceded by a few hours the announcement from Moscow that Russia has agreed to attend a foreign ministers' conference proposed by Great Britain and France to discuss the Marshall program for overall European rehabilitation.

Soviet acceptance, announced by the Russian news agency Tass, said the Soviet government agreed that the "primary task of European countries is the speediest possible rehabilitation and further development of the national economies disrupted by war."

Tass said it was "self-evident that the process could be speeded up with American assistance."

Political observers viewed Mr. Truman's move as another effort to weld a bipartisan foreign policy.

Senate Vote Makes Labor Bill U. S. Law

Senate Votes 68 To 25, To Pass Measure Over Truman's Veto This Afternoon

HOUSE OVERRODE VETO LAST FRIDAY (BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, June 23.—(INS)—The highly controversial Taft-Hartley labor control bill became the law of the land today when the Senate joined the House in over-riding President Truman's veto.

The vote was 68 to 25, six votes more than the required two thirds.

The president suffered the most crushing legislative defeat of his White House career.

The House over-rode the veto last Friday by a smashing four to one majority.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—(INS)—Predictions that President Truman's veto of the labor bill will be over-riden in the Senate were strengthened today when Sen. Herbert O'Connor (D., Md.), announced that he will vote to make the measure law.

O'Connor, who has been considered "doubtful," said that he does not believe the Taft-Hartley bill to be "repressive." He declared that he regards it as "the best interests of our country."

The showdown vote is scheduled for 3 p. m. EDT. Administration lieutenants conceded that week-end "pressure" to shift vote to sustain Mr. Truman's veto has not changed the outlook for White House defeat.

O'Connor's announcement was concrete evidence of that. The Maryland Democrat, whose election is being contested by Republicans, voted for the labor reform bill when it passed the Senate on May 13.

O'Connor said that he was convinced "many of the fears expressed by labor spokesmen are not well founded." He added:

"While I believe the pending measure can be improved in several particulars, and that experience will make possible its improvement, I

Resumption Of Coal Parley Is Expected Soon

WASHINGTON, June 23.—(INS)—Final action on the Taft-Hartley bill today was expected to clear the way for resumption of negotiations in the coal wage dispute that threatens the first major test of the legislation.

Republican leaders confidently anticipated that the senate would override President Truman's veto this afternoon and put the new law on the statute books a week before expiration of the miners' contract with the government June 30.

Discussion between John L. Lewis and the mine owners for a private agreement suspended three weeks ago while both sides awaited disposal of the labor bill. It affects some of the points under negotiation.

Government officials expect the parties to resume bargaining this week of their own volition but, if they do not, coal mines administrator N. H. Collison probably will intervene to get the conferences started again.

am of the definite opinion that the bill as passed is for the best interests of our country."

Hundreds of thousands of telegrams poured into the Senate and the White House but GOP leaders claim they will make the bill law by a margin of three or four votes. Democrats supporting the president's veto of what he termed a "shocking piece of legislation" confirmed this prediction.

Expect 93 Will Vote

Ninety-three Senators are expected to be present for the mid-afternoon vote. Two-thirds, or 62, must vote to override the veto to make the Taft-Hartley bill the new "labor law" of the land. GOP leaders Taft (R) Ohio and Wherry (R) Neb. said they were sure of 65 or 66 votes.

Taft, Republican party chairman and a potential presidential candidate in 1948 against Mr. Truman, carried his party's case to the people by radio again Sunday night and was answered by Sen. Pepper (D) Fla.

Both sides said that all exchanges of the past few days—the Truman-Taft radio speeches, the filibuster and "pressure" from labor organizations—had "switched" few votes from the decisive 68-24 roll call by which the Senate passed the bill originally. Democrats counted on Sens. Spackman (D) Ala., Lucas (D) Ill. and Aiken (Vt.) to change their previous stand and vote to sustain the president.

DR. H. L. CLELAND RESIGNS AS HEAD OF WESTMINSTER

and any one knows what this means.

"Before I ever got to the campus of Westminster College, the faculty knew of my assignment and as early as October I began to receive anonymous notes. The trouble on the campus arises out of a faculty inspired student body. The protests were a collaboration between the faculty and the students."

Succeeded Dr. Galbreath

Dr. Cleland succeeded to the presidency of Westminster College upon the resignation of Dr. Robert F. Galbreath. Prior to that time he had been director of personnel for the Pittsburgh Public Schools, from which position he obtained a leave of absence to accept the Westminster presidency. He has applied for reinstatement in the Pittsburgh position.

For more than six months pressure had been directed against Dr. Cleland from the student body and part of the faculty. It finally came to a head when petitions asking his removal were presented to the board.

These petitions and complaints were before the board on Friday, June 20, and were tabled. Later a vote of confidence was extended Dr. Cleland by the board. Former Congressman Thomas C. Cochran, a member of the board termed the whole situation "a tempest in a teapot." On Saturday afternoon, John E. McCalmont of Pittsburgh, president of the college board announced Dr. McCalmont's resignation.

A request from students asking that Dr. John Orr, Dean of Men be returned to his post as head of the Bible department has not been acted upon by the board.

Westminster Graduate 1913
Dr. Cleland is a graduate of the Class of 1913 of Westminster College and following his graduation acted as football coach at Uniontown high school and later taught in the Bellevue schools. Under the regime of the late Dr. Ben G. Graham as superintendent of the Pittsburgh schools he was made Director of Personnel of the system and was in that capacity when he was invited to become president of Westminster College.

Dr. Cleland will remain in charge at Westminster College until August 15. The board will take up the matter of his successor shortly.

Others Feared Drowned

But others were feared drowned in the flood that roared down on Cambridge from Medicine creek after six inches of rain fell within an hour.

Tornadoes added more woe in the freakish weather that struck south central Nebraska on the first day of summer. Nine persons were injured when the twisters struck Loomis and Gothenburg.

but huge drifts piled up and made the roads impassable.

Yellowstone Park authorities said that one man had been buried in his car but turned off his engine and made a hole in the snow for air until he was rescued.

Forest Rangers reported that six or seven cars marooned on the west side of the pass had been dug out.

All roads in Yellowstone Park were reported open today.

Tired, "All-In"—Listless Feeling Brought To Halt

As Vibrant Energy is Released To Every Muscle, Fibre, Cell

Do you get up in the mornings still tired, feel down-sad-out all day? Have you checked-up on your blood strength lately? Overwork, undue worry, cold, flu or other illness often wears down the red-blood-cells.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloating and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now! As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

COMMUNITY ROSE GARDEN DEDICATED

thanks to all those who had a part in making possible the Community Rose Garden.

Music was furnished by the Grittle Brothers quartet. Their selections were "Speed Away" and "If I Had My Way."

Speakers were introduced by Mrs. A. B. Fankhauser of the Rose Garden committee, in the absence of Mrs. L. F. Royston, chairman.

Dr. Robert Meade Patterson of the Central Presbyterian church gave the invocation and Dr. Burr R. McKnight of the First Methodist church gave the benediction.

Plaque Set Up
At the rear of the garden in the center, mounted on a boulder in a setting of evergreens, is a bronze plaque inscribed "Community Rose Garden honoring the men and women serving their country from Lawrence county." Sponsored by Lawrence County Garden club.

It was on June 4, 1942, that the question of a project was first discussed at a meeting of the Lawrence county Garden club. The idea took form, met with a warm response on the part of the public, the first beds were laid out, the first plantings were made and the Community Rose Garden was launched. Since then plantings have been made annually and there are now 750 rose bushes in 16 beds laid out in formal geometrical pattern.

On the Rose Garden committee are Mrs. L. F. Royston, Mrs. Harry Wettich, Mrs. A. B. Fankhauser, Mrs. John Loudon and Mrs. Clyde Gilfillan.

RUSSIA ACCEPTS FRANCO-BRITISH CONFERENCE PLAN

Bevin would accept the Soviet suggestion, and present the following three-point procedural scheme to the big-three meeting:

1—Committees should break down Europe's overall needs in dollars and material.

2—A survey should determine the extent toward which European nations can assist each other.

3—The amount and type of aid needed from the United States should be ascertained.

Will Pave Way
High sources in London pointed out that the Soviet acceptance probably will pave the way for open approval by eastern European countries, which have been waiting for Russia to take an official stand.

Earnest hope was expressed that the Soviets will not attempt to surround the acceptance with undesirable ideological and political conditions.

Russia was expected to hold out for some form of United Nations supervision over any economic program. The United Nations economic commission for Europe was foreseen as a possible supervisory body.

Krueger Twins—Shuler Brothers Wed At Double Church Ceremony

At a double wedding in St. Joseph's church Saturday morning at 9 o'clock, the Misses Eileen Nell Krueger and Agnes Irene Krueger, twin daughters of Mrs. Emil Krueger, of 238 Smithfield street, became the brides, respectively, of brothers, Robert Edward Shuler, and Leroy Thomas Shuler, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shuler, of 812 West State street.

Vases of peonies and roses, white and red, flanked the altar. Rev. John Unger officiated at the open church ceremony in the presence of a number of friends.

The twin brides wore gowns alike of white brocade satin fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, long sleeves, and a full skirt with a net overpanel that fell to a train. Their veils were fingertip length and both carried colonial bouquets of white roses each centered by an orchid. They were given in marriage by their eldest brother, Fred Krueger.

Miss Agnes Irene Krueger acted as her twin's maid of honor and for her in turn Mrs. Robert Shuler was honor attendant. As bridesmaids, the twins had Mrs. Herbert Krueger and the Misses Romana Krueger, Anne Peluso, and Katherine Shuler. The two former wore gowns of pink net over satin with blue flower and veiling headresses and the latter two wore gowns of blue net over satin with pink flower and veiling headresses. They all carried colonial bouquets of mixed summer flowers.

The Shuler brothers served each other as best men and ushers were Donald Krueger, Herbert Krueger, William Eve, and Ralph Houston. Music for the nuptial mass was sung by St. Joseph's male choir with Miss Clara Duff at the organ.

Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served to the bridal parties at the Ecclesian club and at 1:30 in the afternoon dinner was served there to 100 guests. In the evening there was a reception at the hall for 300 guests with dancing to the music of a seven-piece orchestra.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shuler left today on a wedding trip to Baltimore, Md., and on their return will be at home for the time being with the bride's mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Shuler have dispensed with a wedding trip for the present, plan to go to Canada the latter part of July, and for the present are at home with the groom's parents.

In midsummer the two couples expect to move into their newly purchased home at 201 Smithfield street. Robert Shuler is employed at the Union Brewery, Leroy Shuler at the National Tube Company mill in Ellwood City.

DINNER PARTY FOR

ANGELINE CASTRUCCI

Miss Angeline Castrucci of 208 West Madison avenue, a bride-elect of this summer, was guest of honor at a dinner-party held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Einloth of Lebanon Hall, Mt. Lebanon, Pittsburgh Saturday evening.

The small gathering included friends and relatives of the honored guest. A miniature altar embanked with fresh orange blossoms decorated the beautifully arranged table. A tiny bride and bridegroom were placed at the head of the table, from which a wedding party of miniature bridesmaids followed.

The bridesmaids attached to gay streamers marked places for 15 guests. Mrs. Einloth was assisted at the table by Mrs. William Minnick and Mrs. Paul Josephson. Guests who attended were Mary Castrucci, sister of the honoree, and Palma Julian, of New Castle.

Following the delicious dinner an informal period ensued and the guest opened her gifts, tied with bright streamers hanging from the chandelier. She was the recipient of many lovely and useful gifts.

Miss Castrucci, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Castrucci of 208 West Madison avenue, has chosen Saturday, July 12, as the date of her marriage to Paul Henry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Henry, Sr., of Pittsburgh, and brother of Mrs. Bert Einloth of Pittsburgh. The ceremony will be performed in St. Lucy's church.

NEWLYWEDS HOME

FROM HONEYMOOD

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Cumo, bride and groom of June 7, have returned from their honeymoon, which was spent in Canada and New York, and are now residing at the home of the bride's mother.

Their marriage took place in the First Baptist church at 6:30 p. m. in a candlelight ceremony, the bride Elvira Liberatore being the daughter of Mrs. Assunta Liberatore, of 415 Uber street; and the groom, Anthony Cumo, being the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Cumo, of 1104 Delaware avenue. Rev. Oliver Hurst officiated at the double ring service, in front of an altar banked with palms.

The bride entered on the arm of her brother, Galileo Liberatore, wearing a gown of white embroidered marquisette. Her fingertip veil fell from a Queen Ann crown, and she carried a white Bible with streamers and baby mums, centered with an orchid.

Miss Mary Giffillan, maid of honor, wore a blue gown and carried a bouquet of roses and snapdragons.

Sam Aiello served the groom as best man and the ushers were Archie Cumo, brother of the groom, and Daniel Panella, uncle of the groom.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Charles Sager, accompanied for Mrs. William Luikart at the organ, sang, "To You," "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer." Following the wedding, a reception took place in the Castleton.

The bride is employed at the New Castle Store, and Mr. Cumo, a graduate of New Castle Senior High School, is employed at the Johnson Bronze Company.

WOODARD-PARK

ENGAGEMENT TOLD

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil E. Woodard of 820 Beckford street announce the engagement of their daughter, Marilyn Jane Woodard, to Robert C. Park, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred O. Womeldorf, of West State street. Miss Woodard is employed at the Bell Telephone company and her fiancé attends Western Pennsylvania Horological institute, Pittsburgh. No date has been set for the wedding.

TEMPLETON-GILL

EVENING WEDDING

Gowns in tones of off-white styled like the bride's were worn by the bridal attendants and formed an effective accent to the bride's gown at the candlelight wedding Saturday evening in the First Methodist church of Miss Maxine Templeton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Templeton, of 141 Boyles avenue, and Joseph Harold Gill, of South Bend, Ind., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Gill, of 921 Hazel street, this city.

The double ring ceremony was performed by candlelight by the bride's brother, Rev. John H. Templeton, Jr., of Rimsensburg, assisted by Dr. Burr R. McKnight, pastor of the church. A large vase of white peonies, snapdragons, and Shasta daisies flanked on either side by candelabra was placed against a background of ferns and palms at the altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of antique gardenia satin brocade in a fern pattern and trimmed at the neckline with lace brought from France by her maternal grandmother. Her veil was fingertip length and she carried a white Bible marked with an orchid and streamers. In her shoe was the sixpence brought from England by the groom's brother, Lyle E. Gill, for his bride, the former Joan McCollum. She wore a pearl necklace, gift of the groom.

Mrs. Don N. Gordon as her sister's matron of honor, wore a gown of antique ivory faille with a coronet of yellow flowers and carried a spray bouquet of yellow roses, carnations, and delphinium with yellow streamers. Miss Nell Young, maid of honor, wore a gown of gardenia white faille with a coronet headband of blue flowers and carried a spray bouquet of delphinium, roses, and carnations with blue streamers. Lyle E. Gill was best man for his brother and ushers were Don N. Gordon and Herbert Warnock, of South Bend, Ind.

Preceding the ceremony Mrs. William P. Felch sang "Because" and "You'll Always Be The One I Love" and at the close of the ceremony, the Lord's Prayer. Edwin Lewis played a half-hour recital of nuptial music preceding the ceremony. A reception in the coral room of The Castleton for 100 guests followed the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Gill left by a motor on a western trip and on their return will be at home in an apartment at 515 West Jefferson street, South Bend.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Gill are graduates of New Castle high school. Mr. Gill graduated from Grove City College and for the past three years has been a teacher in the Oil City senior high school. Mr. Gill, a graduate of Tri-State College at Angola, Ind., is a research engineer with the Bendix Corporation in South Bend.

MORRIS SMITH

NUPTIAL CEREMONY

At an open church candlelight ceremony Friday evening at 7:30 in the Croton Methodist church, Miss Louise Irene Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Morris, R. D. 5, became the bride of Harry H. Smith, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Smith, 1103 Dewey avenue. Before an altar embanked with gladioli, ferns and palms, Rev. O. W. Shields, pastor of the church, officiated, using the double ring service.

The bride was attractive in a white satin gown with fingertip veil and coronet headdress. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls and she carried a bouquet of calla lilies, tied with white satin ribbon. The bride chose as her maid of honor her cousin, Miss Lillius Shuler, who was gowned in pink satin and carried a bouquet of pink roses and carnations.

James Steele served as best man and William Eagan and Robert Patton served as ushers.

Preceding the wedding, organ melodies were played by Mr. Clayton Crumner. Miss Evelyn Murphy sang "Because" and "Always."

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. L. F. Shelar, who was assisted in serving a buffet lunch by Mrs. William Black, Mrs. T. C. Kersey and Mrs. Jessie Clark. Immediately after the reception the couple departed for a wedding trip to Detroit and other Michigan cities.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Smith are graduates of the 1945 class of New Castle senior high school. Upon their return they will reside at 809 Franklin avenue.

Washington Calling

By Marquis Childs

Truman's Position And Labor Veto

WASHINGTON, June 23.—Bang, bang, cr-r-r-rash! That is the sound of the Republican party, virtually the entire American press and at least part of the Democratic party coming down on the man in the White House for his veto of the Labor Bill.

Given White House strategy on the Labor Bill, President Truman has very little choice in the matter. You can argue that the strategy was wrong and events may prove that it was mistaken. But once the Ives-Taft-Hartley Bill came to his desk, he had to veto it.

He had to veto it because he had deliberately refrained from working with Congress to get the kind of bill he might have approved. That was administration policy from top to bottom. The expectation was that, given enough rope, the extremist Republicans would write a bill so crudely restrictive that no president could sign it.

Sounds More "Reasonable"
Senator Ives of New York got in the way of that strategy. On his insistence, the final bill was more moderate than the intentions of Senators Taft and Ball. And, equally important, it was made to sound far more "reasonable" than in reality it was. The president's veto message pointed to many obstacles in the way of fair and free collective bargaining under the bill. They are obstacles that, in many instances, have the look of calculated booby traps laid for organized labor.

The charge of politics brought against the president was inevitable, anyone who is frank about it must admit that the whole procedure on every side, from beginning to end, was riddled with the politics of a pre-election year.

Looking at it objectively, however, you must conclude that if politics had been the primary consideration, it would have been smarter to have

COST OF PROPAGANDA
There are indications from Washington that the Postoffice Department leaped before looking when it announced a reduction of one cent in airmail rates a few months ago. In order to raise an extra one hundred ten million dollars revenue to help offset an anticipated deficit of a little short of half a billion dollars the House Postoffice Committee proposes to put the airmail back to six cents and to make certain other increases, including a two cent advance in special delivery and a one cent advance in postal notes. The regular letter rate is expected to remain at three cents instead of being cut to two cents as previously proposed.

These increases no doubt will be accepted with equanimity by the general public. Airmail is cheap even at six cents and a slight advance in some newspaper and periodical rates will work no serious handicap. While the Postoffice Department is not supposed to make a profit, it is in the interest of taxpayers to keep the deficit to the lowest possible minimum.

Must Make Allowance
Allowance must be made in the new budget for the increase in postal salaries, that was granted the mailmen a short time since, having been the first of any consequence in some twenty-five years. The postal service, like business and industry in general, has felt the impact of higher costs. Its employees generally still lag behind the parade of compensation in most private industry.

One thing that the Congress should do, however, is to swing a heavy ax on the output of federal propaganda which clutters up the mails. At the height of the New Deal bureaucracy every agency and department turned out countless tons of useless "information", the bulk of it slanted to promote the bureaucrats and glorify the administration. A comprehensive whittling of the public payroll would make a sizable reduction in this output and help work real economy in the postal services.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

FULL SCHEDULE IN SUMMER

Some mothers say that their children from 12 to 14 have in winter so many school lessons to do at home and are in so many activities at school or elsewhere that these children have little time to share in the duties about the home. Moreover, some of these children take extra lessons during the school year in music, art, dancing and the like. If parents were wiser, these extra lessons would continue during the summer, or be taken only during the summer.

But the same children with no school or outside lessons during the summer may be helping no more about the home than during the school months. I have always maintained that no matter how many responsibilities the school child has outside the home he should find time for doing a few regular home jobs, even if these jobs required only 15 or 20 minutes a day. Anyway, it's not the number of jobs he does at home so much as their certainty and regularity and the degree to which he does them without having to be told to do them, that are of most importance.

Any child who lets his mother slave for him is losing heavily in moral growth. Even if the mother has adequate help, her child who does not have some definite home responsibilities hardly can gain best in character education.

Let me entreat parents of children of school age to sit down with these children calmly and enumerate the regular jobs about the home which need to be done. If these parents are skillful they might induce the children to choose willingly to share daily in these jobs. Otherwise the parent should assign a few regular jobs for each child to do daily for a definite period of days with the understanding that for each such period the children would take turns at the least desirable and most desirable jobs. It may be well to write down a schedule for each child and post it, so there need be no doubts.

Calm and Reasonable
If you have always been calm and reasonable about such matters, each child may accept his responsibility without resistance. If he does not, too grown-up to argue with him. Just assume that he will carry out his assignment faithfully. At the first delinquency, assign a definite penalty. If depriving him of a cherished privilege proves adequately painful to him, use the deprivation. Otherwise, let the offender choose according to a reasonable standard and doing nothing and without any amusement for a period of time from two to four times as long as the job would have required.

It is no use to try such a plan unless you can enforce the penalty without getting mad. Like any good administrator, count your resources. (Continued on Page Nine)

One Man's Opinion

Mr. Truman is now one veto behind Mr. Grumky and having almost as much luck.

In fact, I hear Andrei cabled home "See... I told you these crazy Americans don't pay any attention to a veto."

But these are days of disappointment. Henry Morgenthau says that the post-war world is not the one promised us... and we don't even know whom to sue for breach of promise.

However, science marches on. Gen. George Kenney says that the military man of the future will use sound as a weapon... wives have been using it for centuries in combination with fury.

But it's nice to know that Rudy Vallee is donating his original saxophone and microphone to the Smithsonian Institution. For sentimental reasons he will keep the million bucks they earned him.

EYE-AYE

"You never miss the water till the well runs dry." You never appreciate your eyesight till you lose it. Children's eyes should have the best of care.

If there is the slightest sign of trouble, the doctor should be consulted. Crooked or crossed eyes should be looked after promptly. If a child has an eye which is the least bit crooked he should have medical attention right away.

That is one time where delay is dangerous. All of our school children have eye tests but younger children should be looked after too.

From Me To You

By MESEALL

Really friends it's time that we do something about the situation that exists at Cunningham Armory... in respect to the military unit stationed there... in other words the 229th Field Artillery needs support. The natural supply for men for this unit comes from the recently discharged men of War II... or the better yet... from the lads who have just turned of military age.

During the past year the 229th has been struggling to strengthen itself... pass through the various stages that are needed in reorganization and recognition... Many men have devoted many hours... gratis... to gather the organization together... Several months ago the group was recognized by the state and federal government and the first pay checks went out to local men... Phase number three for complete recognition and permanent establishment of Headquarters Battery and Service Battery in New Castle is coming up... and there is a need... which some of you can help.

Headquarters Battery needs twenty men to bring it up to strength... and Service Battery needs ten men... Now there are some splendid opportunities for young men to take advantage of... Members of these two groups are paid for the few hours each month they train... and don't get this wrong... military training today doesn't mean hours and hours of back-breaking exercises or fifteen mile hikes... Training today means instruction in radio, telephone, equipment technique. Learn a trade so to speak.

Two weeks of each summer are spent in a camp... that is if the member of the group can get away from his work... and many plants are cooperating with the guard units.

Some mighty fine equipment is available at the Armory for training purposes... some of it so new that it wasn't sent overseas in time to be used... other items that have been more than field tested... It's interesting to belong to the guard these days... everything is so mechanized.

Looking At Life

By Erich Brandeis

Are you in a rut?
Are you tired of cooking and washing and doing your daily chores?

Does your office or your factory or your store bore you, and are you fed up with the same people and the same scenery and the same routine day after day?

In other words, has life become monotonous and, unless you get a change, are you just about to bust in your seams?

Well, that's just the way my wife and I felt the last few weeks.

At home, there was beauty all about us—beauty such as only June can produce. The rhododendrons were in full bloom. The roses were just beginning to open up their annual show. There were a couple of baby squirrels in the garden, and the ducks were teaching their children how to swim.

Ordinarily, we would have been supremely happy with "June bust" in all her glorious beauty, making in all her glorious beauty, making even the most eloquent poet look like a tongue-tied mute.

But, instead, we were bored. We even started to quarrel about all sorts of petty little things.

"We need a change," I said to my wife last Wednesday. "Pack your grip. Tomorrow morning we start on a trip."

"Where will we go?" she asked. "Why not go over to the Pennsylvania mountain region?" I suggested.

LAND OF THE FREE

The immigrant from Italy or England, Greece or France. Looks round about our country with eyes that fairly dance. He sees the children playing in rugged raiment clad, And better shoes than ever his foot-socks offspring had. He sees the workmen riding in motor cars they own, And thinks that we are surely the happiest people known.

Just ask the weary mother from somewhere 'cross the sea If those she left behind her are smiling as are we? Or were they cold and hungry the dreary winter through? And do they miss the comforts and joys which once they knew? Then listen as she answers and sadly shakes her head: "There are few can give the children sweet butter for their bread."

The immigrant will ask you: "Why is it that you meet No beggars, penny pleading from all on every street? No child in rags and tatters? No lack of wholesome fare? No pinched and pallid faces deep-lined with grief and care? Then listen as he tells you that grateful we should be To have so great a country, so happy and so free." (Copyright, 1947, Edgar A. SERVING DINNER WITHOUT MAID

"I have no maid and occasionally have guests to dinner. I find it difficult to serve dinner myself as I constantly must get up and down to go to the kitchen. Can you give me any suggestions for a minimum of ups and downs?"

Answer: As many items as possible should be on the table before the guests are seated that the hostess may be subjected to a minimum of ups and downs.

The table should be completely set in the conventional manner. At each place should be all of the silver required for the meal. Water goblets should be filled, bread and butter should be on the individual plates, and the salad should be at each guest's place.

All these should be on the table and the dessert plates, coffee cups and service and finger bowls placed on the serving table before dinner is announced. A three-course meal will save the hostess many steps to and from the kitchen. As a first course, serve fruit or tomato juice, cocktails. Hot soup adds complications to the servantless dinner, for it must be served after the guests are seated.

When this course is finished, remove the dishes. A pile of dinner plates should then be placed in front of the host, who will apportion the meat and vegetables and pass the plates to the women first and then to the men. They may be passed either to the right or to the left. The table should be crumbed after the dishes of the main course have been removed. The dessert is then served.

With this three-course dinner, it will be necessary for you to leave the table only twice. Carving may be done in the kitchen or at the table, as preferred. For greater convenience in serving, platters may be served direct from the kitchen, thus eliminating the necessity of cluttering up the table with serving dishes as well as eliminating the necessity of passing.

Inside Washington

Siberia Extolled By Soviet Publicity Agents
Siberia as Center Of Atom Tests Interests U. S.
United States Is Keeping Eye on Greenland

Special to Central Press
WASHINGTON, June 23.—Soviet press agents are industriously engaged in "glamorizing" Siberia, the bleak region where untold thousands of Russians have perished in exile under the Communists as well as under the Czars.

The USSR Information Bulletin, chief official Soviet propaganda organ in the United States, features a spread depicting the cultural charms and scenic glories of Novosibirsk, so-called "capital" of Siberia. The place is pictured as a northern paradise—if the Russians can be said to acknowledge the existence of a paradise.

More interesting to Washington observers than the town's new railway depot, modern apartment houses, opera house and philharmonic orchestra, however, are two of its other attractions:

1—The powerful Novosibirsk radio station, which, the Bulletin notes, has a voice "heard by wintery parties in the Arctic and by listeners in the Far East." The Communist doctrine is diligently beamed to Asiatic listeners from this installation.

2—The Novosibirsk branch of the USSR Academy of Sciences, where important research is underway in mining-geological and physico-mathematical fields.

United States scientists are wondering whether Siberia may be a center for Russian experimentation in atomic energy matters. At any rate, the Bulletin makes it clear that Comrade Stalin has authorized unusually heavy expenditures for his "Academy of Science" in far-off Novosibirsk.

SENATOR TAFT'S BRICKBATS—The barrage of political brickbats aimed at the balding head of Senator Robert A. Taft (R), Ohio, has not dismayed him. As of now he is more convinced than ever that he should seek—and get—the Republican presidential nomination in 1948.

Rather than to discourage Taft, President Truman's blasts at the former's economic policy are regarded by the target of them as a feather in his cap. Since he controls more potential delegates to the convention, as of now, than his competitors, Taft is not readily discouraged, even by some critics in his own party.

However, whether they admit it or not, a number of GOP members of the upper chamber are more inclined to follow Mr. Truman's economic policies than those of the school which Taft espouses. This faction favors Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York for first place and some have hinted that they prefer Harold E. Stassen for second place.

GREENLAND TUG-OF-WAR—Despite the soft exchange of notes between the State department and Denmark regarding the opening of negotiations to revise the 1941 pact whereby the United States took over the protection of Greenland, experts do not expect an early settlement of the issue.

On the surface, it would appear that Denmark wants a new agreement, but what Copenhagen really wants is to throw out the United States weather stations now being maintained there. This would ease Communist pressure against the United States foothold.

However, the United States has no intention of yielding easily. Recalling that German weather stations continued to operate in Greenland during much of the war, Washington has no intention of letting any other power get established there again.

Moreover, with rapid development in long-range bombing and self-propelled projectiles, outbreak of a war would set off a frantic race to the strategic top-of-the-world area. In view of the spear with which the next war is likely to go into high gear, administration planners believe it essential that observation posts be maintained there.

Secretary of State George C. Marshall has given a hint of the legal basis for the United States position: Greenland is essential to the defense of the western hemisphere; also, it is considered by geographers to be a part of the western hemisphere, which the United States is committed to defend.

In View Of The News

By J. C. Ostreicher, INS Foreign Director

Possibility that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower may take over the presidency of Columbia University turned attention today to the surprisingly small number of great military leaders throughout history who have diverted their enormous talents and organizing abilities to the profession of education.

If Eisenhower decides to take the post, either as the start of a grand new career or as a political interim, he will, however, be in the footsteps of one classical precedent.

This was Gen. Robert E. Lee, who found great inspiration and joy in the educational field after the Civil War. Washington and Lee University at Lexington, Va., is but one monument to the progress of enlightened schooling in the southern United States that was made when he laid down his sword and took up the slate.

Examples Are Few
Other examples throughout history are not too easy to find.

Alexander the Great, of course, is a singular case. A pupil of Aristotle, he tore himself from studies to devote his great gifts to militarism and fulfill his fanatical belief that he was destined to rule the world.

When he died, Alexander of Macedon was still a soldier. But his teaching, his cultivation of the arts and sciences and his philosophical outlook left indelible records in history's pages, exceeding perhaps even the military conquests that have immortalized his name.

Karl Von Clausewitz was a great soldier and a great teacher as well, but his talents were directed solely toward dissemination of the finer secrets in the art of war. His posthumous influence was decidedly unfruitful. Von Kluck disregarded his advice in the first World War and Adolf Hitler spurned it in the second, with results that need not be mentioned.

Few In Educational Line
Among the few who gave themselves over to the intellectual pursuits after military careers was Edmund Burke, one of Great Britain's most distinguished parliamentarians and historians. He held important British army posts, including the not inconsiderable one of paymaster-important in any age—and his imperishable writings display the straight crispness of communications.

Another in this category is George Bancroft, a secretary of the navy who founded Annapolis Naval Academy after starting life as a teacher and whose name as a historian of the United States is a byword throughout the world.

Gen. Eisenhower has made clear he is not racing into a snap decision on Columbia University's offer. There is a huge gap between command post and campus. If he decides to go to Morningside Heights he will join a very small company in the recorded history of the world.

HETRICK WOODRING NUPTIALS SATURDAY

Using the single ring service, Rev. A. E. Simon, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church, officiated at the wedding, which took place in the couple's home on Cecil avenue.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attractive in an aqua summer crepe dress and white half-hat with shoulder length veil. She wore mesh mitts and carried a white Bible, marked with a single orchid and white streamers. Mrs. Jesse Zannoni, aunt of the bride, served as matron of honor. She was attired in a pink summer crepe dress with white accessories and wore a shoulder corsage of yellow roses and white carnations.

Robert Woodring acted as best man for his brother, Kenneth and Robert Woodring, Jr., brother and nephew, respectively, of the groom, were ushers.

The ceremony took place before an improvised altar backed with flowers, ferns and palms. "Because" and "Always" were offered by Miss Mary Solomon, soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Gomer Emery, who played rapid music. A reception for 50 guests followed the wedding.

Upon returning from a trip to Washington, D. C., and eastern points the young couple will take up residence at their home on Cecil avenue.

Mrs. Woodring, a graduate of New Castle high school, was employed in the office of the Chambers Motor company previous to her marriage. Mr. Woodring, a veteran of World War II, and a graduate of New Castle high school, is affiliated with the Chambers Motor company.

Model "Air Derby" Thrills Crowd At Airport Sunday

Pictured above is a small portion of the crowd that surrounded the contestants in the model air derby at the New Castle Airport Sunday. Marked in the picture is (1) an entry controlling the flight of his gas powered model (2).

Against a background of staccato engine noises, zooming planes in flight and thrills galore, some three thousand spectators witnessed the Optimist club's first annual "Air Derby" Sunday at the New Castle airport, with 250 contestants putting their models through aerobatics for 12 hours.

Flight conditions were ideal all day, with the exception of gusty winds which made free flight flying a gamble on losing the planes—and indeed, many of the planes did fade from sight, borne on the tricky currents aloft.

The field was set off in three circles to handle as many control models as possible, and the free flight area extended from the last circle to the intersection of the runway.

Fly Many Minutes
Unofficial duration of free flying models was fifteen to forty-five minutes, although some of the ships passed from view. Fastest speed record for the day was recorded by a class VI speed model, which hit 109 miles per hour.

The Sharon Eaglets demonstrated their jet-propelled model to the audience at 3 p. m. making three hops, although none of the flights were very long.

There were two radio-controlled models at the field for inspection, but neither of the planes were flown.

Supervise Events
Control line events were directed by Karl G. Walter, president of the New Castle "Small Flies" club, with able assistance of the model plane club members and the Optimists.

Joseph Wager Wagner, aided my Optimist club members, directed the free flight and exhibition events, while Harold Boak was in general charge of the day-long derby.

The effort of all the sponsors, visiting club members and directors made the affair a smooth-working arrangement between recorders, processors, timers and judges.

The crowd reached its height about noon when the derby reached full swing, and was still large at about 4 p. m. when the entries were closed.

However, the little planes were in the air from 8 a. m. until 3 p. m., 12 hours of continuous flying, which delighted the onlookers.

Winners Announced
Following is the list of winners for all classes of planes at the meet:

Duration of free flight trials — Class A, Bob Shultz of Pittsburgh, 524 4-5 seconds; class B, Bob Chiracos, Campbell, O., 583 1/2 seconds; class C, Wilbur Hill, Warren O., 1,080 seconds.

Speed or control line flights—Class II, Harold Roth of Cleveland, O., and Capt. John Leeson, Youngstown, O., (tie), 77 m.p.h.; Class III, John Korvalis, Jr., Youngstown, O., 80.1 m.p.h.; Class IV, Howard Burns, Pittsburgh, 80 m.p.h.; class V, Sid Tanabe, Cleveland, and Donald Hicks, Cleveland, (tie), 98.5 m.p.h.; class VI, David J. Goebler, Pittsburgh, 109.1 m.p.h.

Jet plane owned by Joseph Gotol of Sharon and flown by Tom Randolph, was judged the most unusual plane at the derby. Stunting award was given to William Slag of Columbus, O., with 120 points.

Planes were lost by the following contestants. If found please notify Rudy Walters, phone 6139-J, who will return the planes to their owners:

EASTON, Pa., June 23.—But no delegates were there! That was what happened yesterday when the Grand Army of the Republic opened its eighty-first and final state encampment. There are few left to serve as delegates.

There was a large gathering of the employees and office force of the Standard Steel Spring company and their families on Saturday afternoon, their second annual picnic at Cascade Park. Supper was served in the grove about six o'clock.

In the afternoon at three o'clock, there were foot races, three-legged races, sack race, egg throwing contest, balloon, and hog calling contests, also horseshoe pitching.

Following the evening meal, there was a splendid entertainment program, and selections by an orchestra, in community hall. Webster Bair was chairman of arrangements.

Good Weather Aids In Highway Work

Power Shovel Working On King's Chapel Road; Will Begin Blacktopping Old Plank Road

Good construction weather has aided materially the outdoor projects of the State Highway Department, it was reported by Alfred Martin, county superintendent of the State Highway Department.

The work on the King's Chapel road, which will include 6.66 miles of new blacktop road, is progressing rapidly. A power shovel is at work on the job and by the end of the week, a second shovel will be moved to the project to speed the work along.

Work on the old Plank road which was held up last fall due to the inclement weather, is being resumed this week. A black top will be placed on this road also.

Surface treatment work of the department is moving along, with the crews working in the Princeton area. The men will move to the road east of the Harbor, where they will finish this work. Calcium dust laying work is expected to begin the middle of this week also.

Date Approaches For Girl Scout Day Camp

Day Camp Will Open Monday Morning July 7 At 9 O'Clock At Cascade Park

Opening date is approaching for the Girl Scout Day Camp which is held annually at Cascade Park. Day camp will open Monday morning, July 7 at 9 o'clock for a two weeks period.

All registered Brownies and throughout the older Girl Scouts will meet at the Scout building to begin the season's activities of outdoor life in this scenic locality.

Seventy-five registrations have been received at the Girl Scout office, Greer building, and registrations will be accepted until July 7 as approximately 100 campers can be accommodated adequately.

Director and counselors are making eleventh hour preparations for various necessary supplies and completing an extensive schedule for acquainting campers with outdoor things and the friendliness of sharing these activities with congenial companions.

Charles E. Duff In 11th Airborne Division Army Band

WITH THE EIGHTH ARMY IN JAPAN—(Delayed)—Private First Class Charles E. Duff who is currently serving with the 11th Airborne Division Band probably has been assigned to as many units as more than one who has quite a bit more time in the army than he has.

Pfc. Duff began his army career in June of 1946 when he entered the army at Pittsburgh, Pa., and from here he went to Fort McClellan, Ala., where he took his basic training. After completing basic training, Duff volunteered for parachute training and was sent to Fort Benning, Ga., where he qualified as a parachutist on November 9, 1946. Since that time, he has seen service at Fort Bragg, N. C., with the 504 Parachute Infantry Regiment, and with the 82nd Airborne Division Band; at Camp Kilmer, N. J., and at Camp Stoneman, Calif.

After arriving overseas in April, 1947, Duff began to travel again and has already been attached to three units, the 4th Replacement Depot, the 2nd Platoon, 6th Special Service, and is now attached to the 11th Airborne Division Band.

When questioned about his many travels in this short time in the army, Duff replied, "The army isn't fooling when they inserted the word 'travel' in their recruiting posters."

Pfc. Duff is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard S. Duff of 315 North Mercer street, New Castle, Pa.

signed or to have let it become law without a signature. The president could have written a message pointing out the weaknesses of the omnibus bill and expressing his doubts as to its workability. Then he might have added that because this was the will of the majority, he was reluctantly permitting it to become law.

Would See Signal

It is true that the extreme left of labor was waiting hopefully for such a move. They would have taken it as the signal for a third-party move. Moscow has given the nod for such a move, and fellow travelers are its most active promoters, hoping to mobilize those who are genuinely disillusioned with the two old parties.

But a veto of the Labor Bill is not likely to win this crowd to active support of Mr. Truman. Their touchstone is foreign policy. The real aim of a third party formed under the auspices of those who now seem likely to back it will be to prevent the carrying out of a constructive foreign policy such as Secretary Marshall had advocated.

Nor is the president likely to win many recruits from the right of labor in the A. F. of L. That camp is dominated by John L. Lewis and there are more and more indications that Lewis has made a deal with Governor Thomas E. Dewey. In any event, the doughty Lewis will try to swing all the votes he can away from Truman.

By approving the bill, the president would have become the hero of a large section of the press. They would have acclaimed him for his "cooperation," and he would undoubtedly have found it easier to gain acceptance for his foreign program.

Harassed By Strikes

Certainly Mr. Truman has no reason to love the labor leaders who were beseeching him for a veto. He has repeatedly been harassed by strikes; and leaders such as A. F. Whitney of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen have renounced him in the most violent language.

He must, it seems to me, be given credit for expressing his sincere belief. Or, rather, he accepted the recommendations of his foremost experts in this field. Among those who urged a veto were Secretary of Labor Lewis Schwellenbach, Paul Herzog, chairman of the National Labor Relations Board, and Secretary of Interior Julius Krug. They were ably seconded by the president's close adviser, Clark Clifford.

The weakness of the president's position is that he did not reaffirm his belief in the measures necessary to correct flagrant trade-union abuses and the basic inequities of the Wagner Act. He merely referred to the stand he has taken in the past. But no matter what he had said, the fierce winds of politics were certain to assail a veto.

LOOKING AT LIFE

gested. "We've rushed through it before, now let us really see it."

We have done a lot of traveling all over the world, but in all our journeys we have never seen anything more beautiful than the Pennsylvania countryside.

And there was another reason—maybe it was vanity, maybe a bit of justifiable pride.

But, in that region I have a lot of loyal readers, to judge by my fan mail, and I was anxious to meet some of them, to see what kind of people they really are and how they live.

So, on Pennsylvania we agreed. I drew our line of march on the map with a red pencil, and off we started.

I am going to tell you more about our trip tomorrow.

We did more than a thousand miles in five days.

Now we are back, tired and sleepy, but refreshed and happy.

We met many people. We ate and slept and played and saw thousands of trees and flowers and birds. We drove over mountains and along beautiful rivers.

But now that we are back, what did we see more beautiful than our own?

Nothing has changed at home, but everything is different.

For five days we forgot all the family things and saw a thousand new ones.

This morning my wife told me that she can hardly wait to cook tonight's dinner. And, when I left the house she was swinging the dust cloth with zip and zest and singing a tune.

That's what a little change did. More tomorrow.

SO-CALLED HAY CURING AIDS MAY BE DANGEROUS

Hay and grain must be sufficiently dry before storing in the mow or bin unless air is to be forced through them to complete the drying process.

Otherwise, high heat is developed, sometimes resulting in fire in the case of hay, and the material usually comes out musty or moldy, as all experienced farmers know.

Experiments with hay show that relatively high heat, which is a "slow burning" process, destroys much more of the protein and other nutrients than farmers realize. "Tobacco cured" hay may be palatable but has lost all of its carotene and much of its feed value.

Adding small amounts of proprietary compounds to tough hay and grain to insure keeping is likely to lead to serious disappointment, or even loss of the crop and farm buildings through fire.

Most of such preservatives apparently are based on sodium bicarbonate, or baking soda, which in the presence of moisture will give off carbon dioxide gas. When hay starts to heat naturally, this same gas is evolved in very large quantities, so that the amount given off by a few pounds of soda per ton would seem to make little difference.

Tests at two experiment stations failed to show the value of one widely advertised compound.

Predict Big Traffic Jam During July 4th Period

CHICAGO, June 23.—The biggest traffic jam in the nation's history will occur during the Fourth of July week-end holiday this year, the National Safety Council predicted today.

To meet the threat of a record-breaking traffic toll, the Council appealed to motorists and pedestrians to "Be Alive On the Fifth" as the keynote of a nationwide campaign against accidents during the holiday.

Close to 30,000,000 vehicles are expected to pack the highways over the Fourth of July, the Council said, and their speedometers are expected to clock nearly four billion miles during the three-day holiday. This estimate is based on gasoline consumption, which shows mileage this year exceeding even the previous record level of pre-war 1941.

To Prevent Carelessness

One hundred and thirty other national organizations have joined with the Council in a united effort to prevent a jam-packed carelessness over the Fourth.

The campaign is designed to help public officials, traffic officers and safety leaders in their efforts to curb the holiday death toll.

In asking for public support of the campaign, Ned H. Dearborn, president of the Council, pointed out that a similar coordinated effort last year helped to reduce the July traffic toll 23 per cent below the previous high in 1941.

"Nevertheless," he said, "3,300 persons died from accidents of all kinds in July last year, and as usual the Fourth of July celebration contributed substantially to that figure."

"This year we have many dangerous factors—a three-day holiday, increased mileage, relative prosperity. It adds up to a big celebration—and a big pile-up of dead and injured—unless we all make it our business to do something about it.

"We can do something about it, because these tragedies result from things we can control—haste, selfishness, thoughtlessness, the desire to show off."

"Take it easy on the Fourth. Be alive on the Fifth!"

Makes Record Trip Over U. S. In Old Auto

SAN FRANCISCO, June 23.—(INS)—A 56-year-old engineer from Gary, Ind., was logging a lot of sleep in a San Francisco hotel room today, content with his feat of driving across the country in four days and 13 hours—in a 20-year-old model T Ford.

The engineer, Frank Hovevar, claimed a new transcontinental automobile speed record upon completion of his drive from New York's Times Square to Geary street and Market in downtown San Francisco. The previous record was made by the famed "Cannonball" Baker who in 1926 drove the distance in five days, two hours and 13 minutes.

Hovevar said he made the long trip with brief stops only for gasoline and food.

Clem Powell, assistant district manager of the Ford Motor company who greeted Hovevar, said the model T was a standard "fiver" in every respect.

Dump (petroleum, oils and lubricants) and a large coal dump, the company operates with a personnel of only one hundred and seventy some men. Located approximately twelve miles from the important city of Osaka, the company shares camp with the "Sixty-fifth" Engineer Battalion at Kanakura Barracks.

Pfc. Turk intends to make the army his career. His parents live at R.D. 8 in New Castle.

Summer's Entrance Draws Crowds To McConnell's Mills

Scenic Beauty of Park on Slippery Rock Lures Hundreds
On Sunday

First day of summer was ushered in with all the beauty and splendor of a queen. A warm sun, pleasant breezes and a fleecy sky assured all that "summer is really here".

Motor-minded Americans, and what American isn't, took to their cars. McConnell's Mill, Breakneck and Eckert's bridge, all spots of wild scenic beauty, received their first day of buzzing humanity. Old Mese was in his own, and three extra guides were aiding him to take care of the cars and people. Approximately 200 cars were jammed into the road and parking area at McConnell's Mill, and it was estimated by one of the guides that about 1,500 people would view the mill and water.

Swimmers, anglers, hikers, picnickers and sun bathers were all enjoying perfection in their own field. One tiny tot, unable to walk yet, was being dipped experimentally into the tepid water on the sandy shore below Eckert's bridge. The little lady who stole the show in the parade of fashion was a blonde, dimpled lass of 18 months. She was wearing a bright red suit, or dress, brought from Hawaii by her sailor father. Youngsters and oldsters alike were enjoying the warmth of this summer Sunday afternoon.

CLEAR LOITERERS FROM PARK

Garden Notes

Infestations of red spider mite which injure and discolor the foliage of junipers can be controlled by periodic dustings with fine sulphur.

Excessive sucker growths, especially those from below the grafts on lilacs, cherries, roses and flowering almonds should be removed as soon as discovered.

Forget-me-nots, violas, candytufts and many other small edging and border plants will be encouraged to make new growth and another crop of flowers if they are cut back rather severely as soon as they finish their first blooming period.

When selecting late cabbage or cauliflower plants keep in mind that a good plant should be short and stocky, have a bluish, reddish or purplish color plus an abundance of young roots.

Newly planted asparagus beds should be cultivated carefully during the first year.

If tulip bulbs are to be stored for autumn planting, they should be dug up after foliage has dried down, graded into even sizes and labeled carefully. Spread the stored bulbs thin or pack them in slatted boxes and keep them in a cool dry place out of the sun and direct wind.

Goats do not eat tin cans, as is often said. They are frequently seen nibbling at tin cans, but they are really licking the paper labels, the paper containing salt which is very essential to the welfare of the goats as well as other ruminants.

Man Drowns When Trapped In Rocks

WAYNESBURG, June 23.—Another summer drowning occurred on Sunday when James M. Conkey, 23, drowned in Ten Mile creek, near Rogersville. When he became trapped at the bottom of a 14-foot pool, his swimming companions were unable to save him.
Conkey's foot became tightly wedged between two rocks on the bottom after he jumped, feet first, from a diving board. He was under water 30 minutes before his fellow swimmers were able to locate his body and bring it to the surface.

Celebrates First
Solemn High MassImpressive Ceremonies At St. Vitus
Church Sunday Noon; Reception
At Home Followed

A great occasion which occurs once in a lifetime of a young priest, occurred Sunday morning for the newly ordained, Rev. Fr. Francis L. Ginocchi, when he celebrated his first solemn high mass in St. Vitus church.

The traditional and impressive ceremonies, started at noon, with the processional including altar boys, clergy, and pages. Little William DeCarbo, Jr., as page attired in yellow satin ensemble, carried the chalice, which was presented to the young priest by Alfonso Scarazzo. Little Anthony Carucci carried the stole and Francis Addia, the missal.

Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita, pastor of St. Vitus church was archpriest; celebrant, Rev. Fr. Francis L. Ginocchi; deacon, Rev. Fr. Nicholas Biondi, pastor of St. Philip Neri church, Donora; sub-deacon was Rev. Fr. Richard Paluse, assistant of the Church of Christ the King of Ambridge, Pa.

Rev. Fr. Albert M. Inteso of St. Vitus church, was master of ceremonies. During the processional the choir of St. Vitus church sang, Tu Es Sacerdos.

Rev. Fr. Joseph A. Mastrangelo, assistant at the Church of the Madonna, Sharpsburg, delivered the sermon in English. Fr. Mastrangelo, a long-standing friend of Fr. Ginocchi's, spoke on the priesthood. He expressed his best wishes to the young priest for choosing to be an ambassador of Christ—realizing early in life that material things are unimportant; "Father Ginocchi stands above you," he said, "and yet he is your servant—seeking those who have transgressed and bring them back to the true fold. Today we are witnessing a dream fulfilled."

Rev. Fr. Henry DeVivo, pastor of St. Rita church, Connetquot, addressed the congregation in Italian. He spoke on the "Divinity and Eternity of the church" expressed in the beautiful and solemn ceremonies, which honors a newly ordained priest. "The church continues with the replacement of long line of new priests."

Father DeMita, pastor, proudly paid tribute to the four young men of St. Vitus parish, who dedicated their lives to serve Christ during their entire lives. The four namely, Fathers Ginocchi, Paluse, Mastrangelo and Biondi, assisted at the offering of the holy mass.

Other priests who assisted in the sanctuary includes: Rev. F. William M. Pisarcik; Rev. Fr. Elias G. Nader, Seminarian William Garafalo, Rev. Fr. Walter Karaveckas, Rev. Fr. Francis Boyle, Rev. Fr. Francis Paul, of Ellwood; Rev. Fr. Sebastian Ippolito, Rev. Fr. V. V. Stancielewski, Rev. Fr. Stanislaus Jozewiak of Ellwood; Rev. Fr. Russell Meyers, of Holy Rosary church, Homestead; Rev. Fr. John Iammarino, of Cleveland; and Brother Valentine, Capuchin of St. Augustine Monastery, Pittsburgh.

The choir sang the mass in honor of St. Orestes, Martyr of Tyana, composed by Oreste Ravaneli. Mrs. Frances Colao was organist. The O Salutaris Hostia, and Tantum Ergo was sung in three-voice arrangement, under the direction of B. J. Biondi. Their concluding selection was "To Jesus Heart All Burning."

The main altar was beautifully arranged with fresh flowers of a dusty pink and red roses. Lilies adorned the side altars, flanked with greenery and tall palms.

Father Ginocchi's family, relatives and close friends occupied the front pews of the church.

In the evening, an informal reception was held at the residence on Pollock avenue. Friends and relatives called to extend best wishes and congratulations. The reception continued until 10 o'clock.

The ordination of Father Ginocchi's was held on June 15, at 8 a. m., in the famous St. Vincent's Archabbey, Latrobe, Pa. The Most Rev. Hugh C. Boyle, D.D., Bishop of the Pittsburgh diocese officiated at the ceremonies.

This past week, Father Ginocchi has been offering daily mass in St. Vitus church. He will remain at St. Vitus until he receives his official appointment from the Bishop.

Hunt For Reasons
For Slaying Of Racketeer Chief

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., June 23.—(INS)—Police at this border town disclosed today Police Chief Juan Meneses of Mexicali, Mexico, was mowed down by machineguns late last night while investigating dope traffic between Mexico and the United States.

Police said Chief Meneses was waylaid by gunmen on Reforma street. He died instantly as seven shots ripped into his body.

Calixico authorities said the killers escaped.

Police theorized that the slaying might be linked with the Bugsy Siegel machinegun death in Beverly Hills, Cal., last Friday night, and the fatal shooting yesterday of Sol Turkin in Los Angeles.

An imported gunman fired a burst of nine shots through a window to snuff out the life of the dapper 42-year-old underworld czar while he quietly read a newspaper Friday night in a Beverly Hills mansion.

Police decided against an immediate roundup of underworld characters. Instead, Siegel's nationwide gambling and racket connections were being carefully studied.

Authorities gave credence to one report that rival syndicate bosses were angered because control of bookmaking in five western states assertedly had been turned over recently to Siegel.

The Virgin Islands, discovered by Columbus on his second voyage in 1493, were Danish from 1666 to 1917. They were bought by the United States for $25,000,000 after 50 years of dickering. The three main islands and their satellites total 133 square miles.
